

ACADEMIA

No. 2 (46) 2015

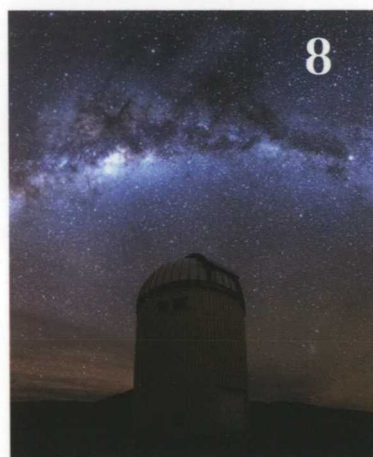

The Magazine of the Polish Academy of Sciences

Focus on

Angry and apolitical

“Young people are not comparing today’s Poland to communist times, but instead look to the more affluent and more efficient EU countries,” says Prof. Mirosława Grabowska

Focus on

Peering through the Magellanic Clouds

Asst. Prof. Szymon Kozłowski tells us about new ways of identifying potential quasars among the stars of one of our closest neighbor galaxies

Briefly Speaking

Excellence at a premium

“We should not have any inferiority complex – we contribute a lot of novelties to world science and are interesting as an important EU country,” says Prof. Jerzy Duszyński, President of the Polish Academy of Sciences

Editorial..... 3

Focus on

Mirosława Grabowska 4
Sociology Angry, Young, and Apolitical

Szymon Kozłowski 8
Astronomy Far Behind the Magellanic Clouds

Jerzy Zdanowski 12
Oriental Studies Is There a Chasm Between Us?

Paweł J. Mazurkiewicz 16
Biology The Social Life of an Individual Ant

Włodzimierz Oniszczenko 19
Psychology Similarities in Differences

Michał Kozakiewicz 22
Biology The Devil's in the Definitions

Bogusław Pawłowski 26
Biology A Journey of 6 Million Years

Research in Progress

Elżbieta Jackowicz 30
Geology Interplanetary Travelers

Kinga Wysińska-Di Carlo 34
Sociology Poland's Door Only Slightly Ajar

Ewelina Ciecierska 38
Materials Engineering Cooperation Is Crucial

Briefly Speaking

Jerzy Duszyński 40
More Excellence & Openness, Less Celebrity

Insight

Joanna Rychel, Marcin Honczaruk, Barbara Woronko 45
Permafrost in Poland?

Marek Domański 48
Choose Your Own Perspective

Short Circuit

Włodzimierz Zawadzki 50
Science Here and There

Cover: Jakub Ostalowski,

Page 2: Jakub Ostalowski (2), dr Krzysztof Ulaczyk, projekt OGLE